BURNET'S PATENT WATER COOLER.

THIS article is the result of the application of scientific principles to the purpose intended, viz: To keep water as cool as possible, as long as possible, with the least possible quantity of Ice.

The proprietor has long devoted his attention to this particular branch of domestic economy, and passing from one improvement to another, has at length arrived at near perfection as it is possible to reach. A proof of this is found in the very general use of these Coolers in all parts of the country. A better proof of the same facts, that, since their introduction, various imitations of the genuine article have been attempted—all falling short of the object, it is true, yet all proving clearly which way the tide of popular opinion is setting.

A simple statement of facts, in regard to these Coolers, will satisfy every one of their superiority. First, they are the only article of the kind ever patented. They are furnished with two distinct non-conducting chambers, by means of which, with two pounds of ice to the gallon, water is kept (at a temperature of 40° below zero, or only 8° above the freezing point) all day. Thus, at a cost of some five cents per day, supplied with water cold as ice itself, larger numbers in the same proportion. This has been found by actual experience to be a saving of at least twenty-five per cent. over the Earthenware, formerly used for the purpose.

Again, these Coolers never sweat; in this way, saving much unnecessary waste and trouble.

Being manufactured in the most workmanlike style, and handsomely finished in every respect, they make a very beautiful ornament for the Dining Room, Hotel or Steam Boat.

An important improvement has lately been added to the Cooler, viz: A small tin capable of holding from six to eight pounds of butter, inserted directly under the cooler. This quantity of butter can be kept perfectly fresh without additional ice—a very important addition to the economy and comfort of families.

If desired, the Cooler can also be furnished with a small expeller with a Filtering Apparatus, and for sale by
